

JOURNEY OF PEACE

Dear Divine Souls,

It is so beautiful to see the continuous progress being made by all of our myriad charitable, humanitarian and spiritual/cultural programs. They are truly being carried in the hands of the Divine and blossoming beautifully under God's grace. From leading the world's first initiative to bring interfaith leaders together for improved water, sanitation and hygiene (WASH), to continued progress in our efforts to clean and green the waters and banks of Ganga, Yamuna and all of India's rivers, to the publication and launching of the International Edition of the Encyclopedia of Hinduism, to protection of Mother Nature, to organizing the faiths to save lives during humanitarian crises, helping prevent crises to come and abating climate change. We strive to embrace, reach and touch all of humanity, for we know that the same Divine we worship in our temples, churches, mosques, synagogues and gurdwaras pervades all of creation.

I always say, "Giving is Living" and "Sharing is Caring." It is through service of the needy by sharing our overflowing abundance that we attain peace, joy, satisfaction and liberation in life. Seva, Sadhana and Samarpan--these are the keys to a successful, meaningful and divine life. Through our diverse array of projects and programs we seek to encompass all 3 of these essential components. Seva (selfless service) is carried forth through our free schools, orphanages/gurukuls, women's empowerment and upliftment programs, our efforts restore and protect the free and pristine flow of Mother Ganga as well as so many more activities. Sadhana -- through our spiritual, inter-faith and cultural activities, events and programs. Samarpan -- through our ceaseless dedication to God in all forms, humanity and Mother Nature.

Every time I see the light sparkle in the eyes of a child who has learned to read, every time I see the relieved smile on a face of a patient whose illness has been treated, every time I see [A3] someone touched and transformed through our numerous programs, I always remember our generous and selfless donors and volunteers who, with the grace of God, have made these miracles possible.

May God bless you all and all your families. In the service of God and humanity,

In the service of God and humanity,

Swami Chidanand Saraswati

It is the largest ashram in Rishikesh, providing its thousands of pilgrims who come from all corners of the Earth with a clean, pure and sacred atmosphere, as well as abundant, beautiful gardens. GANGA AARTI

Ganga is not only a river. She is a Divine Mother, giving freely to all with no discrimination, hesitation or expectation. She irrigates not only our farms, but also our hearts, minds and souls.

Yet, the Ganga is also one of the most polluted rivers and endangered rivers in the world. Understanding that people won't pollute the same place that they worship, Pujya Swamiji began a mission to initiate Ganga Aarti ceremonies (lighting ceremonies) up and down the banks of Ganga and to convince as many ashrams as possible to turn their river fronts into places of worship.

The Ganga Aarti held every night at Parmarth Niketan, Rishikesh, draws people of all faiths from across the world to enjoy a serene sunset ceremony of song, inspiration and lights.

Pujya Swamiji has also been the inspiration and founder of Ganga Aarti ceremonies in Varanasi (on the eve of the turn of the Millennium with H.H. the Dalai Lama and numerous other saints), as well as in Allahabad, Gangotri, Uttarakashi, Dev Prayag, Rudraprayag, Jwalapur, and many other locations.

INTERNATIONAL YOGA FESTIVAL

Parmarth Niketan's world-famous International Yoga Festival is a beautiful time of seeing the world come together in the name of yoga, or union, on the holy banks of Mother Ganga. In 2017, nearly 2000 people from 101 countries came to learn asana, pranayama, kriyas and meditation from over 60 presenters from 20 different nations. Each year IYF provides participants with darshan, satsang and inspiring discourses by revered saints and yogis, who fill the atmosphere with bhakti yoga (devotion) and gyan yoga (wisdom). Then, they joined hands together in karma yoga (service) and cleaned the banks and waters of Mother Ganga, pledging to work to protect and preserve the water bodies in their own cities and countries across the world.

It was the first destination of their nine-day visit to India.

During their visit, they participated in a beautiful Ganga Aarti ceremony as well as a ceremony in which waters from around the world were poured onto a globe with prayers for water, sanitation and hygiene (WASH) for all. His Royal Highness, King Charles, shared beautiful words of inspiration and spoke about how glad he was to be present for this ceremony and also how pleased he was to have heard about the wonderful work for the environment and humanity being done by Pujya Swamiji. He said: "It has been a particular pleasure to meet Swamiji, about whom I have heard so much. I know that he and his ashram, and all the work that he and his colleagues do, is of remarkable significance."

Near the conclusion of their visit to Parmarth Niketan, Pujya Swamiji presented the royal couple with a sacred Rudraksha tree, which serves as a symbol for the crucial importance for all people to come together from all places to ensure a greener, cleaner, more sustainable world.

Mount Kailash/ Mansarovar Tibet Ashrams

In July 2003, we inaugurated the Parmarth Kailash-Mansarovar Ashram on the banks of Lake Mansarovar, the first ashram ever in this holy land. There are 20 rooms with 5-8 beds each. Additionally there are 2 large halls for katha, meditation and satsang, which can also serve as additional dormitories. In 2004, a team of nearly 40 doctors and medical assistants traveled from USA in the first free medical camp in Mansarovar and Mt. Kailash.

There are now 3 Parmarth Kailash-Mansarovar ashrams, on the banks of Lake Mansarovar, in Paryang, Tibet and in Dirapuk at a height of nearly 17,000 feet, on the sacred Mt. Kailash parikrama route. Dirapuk is the place where all yatriis who are undertaking the parikrama spend their first night, 20 km beyond the starting point. It is the location from which the darshan of Kailash is the closest, clearest and most spectacular. The ashram is double-storied with nearly 50 rooms, as well as a hall and dining facilities. All rooms face Mt. Kailash.

In September 2009, Pujya Swamiji officially inaugurated the Dirapuk ashram, with over 150 yatriis from around the world, as well as local Buddhist monks and dignitaries & officials of the Tibet Autonomous Region. The ashram is already a great boon for the town, as we hired local people for the construction and trained them in masonry, carpentry and painting. The ashram is run and maintained by local Tibetans, and proceeds from the ashram go back into the community for education, health care and other projects.

Previously, in 2006, we inaugurated the Parmarth Mansarovar Ashram in Paryang, Tibet, the place where all yatriis stay the night before reaching Lake Mansarovar. The ashram has more than 20 rooms -- singles, doubles & triples, and also two large halls for satsang, meditation or for use as dormitories.

Gurukuls & Orphanages

Cultivating Jewels

Simple shelters with food, beds and babysitters are not sufficient for the impoverished, orphaned and disadvantaged children of rural and mountainous India. All children need not only to be fed and sheltered -- they need to be educated and trained so they can be productive members of society. They need to be inculcated with values, ethics and spirituality which will make them torchbearers of Indian culture.

Our education initiative includes the following essential components: (1) a full, standard academic education, (2) training in the ancient Vedic knowledge and traditions, (3) a moral and value-based education which is crucially needed in modern society.

In the "Dust to Diamonds" program, our gurukuls/orphanages provide 500 young, impoverished, disadvantaged boys with a basic academic education, as well as intensive Sanskrit and ancient Vedic texts. Their days are filled with yoga, meditation, Vedic chanting, reading of scriptures, mathematics, seva and special programs designed to infuse their lives with essential values and ethics. They are not only getting a full academic education, but they are also being trained to be cultural ambassadors, carrying with them -- wherever they go -- the deep values and culture of honesty, integrity, purity, piety, dedication and selflessness.

Once a child comes to the orphanage/gurukul, a rapid, divine transformation takes place. Looks of hopelessness become looks of great optimism and hope. Lightless eyes become bright shining eyes. Feelings of destitution and despair become feelings of pride, of faith and of enthusiasm.

The rishikumars travel on yatra to the Himalayas, perform yoga, yagna and prayers on the banks of Mother Ganga, study academics and computers as well as the scriptures, perform dramas based on Indian spiritual history and -- of course -- have time to run and play!

Ganga Action Parivar

Hope is in Your Hands

The holy, life-giving Ganga is one of the most at-risk rivers in the world. Every day, it is polluted by some three billion liters of sewage and chemical waste, threatening the health and lives of millions. Its ecology, containing some of the world's rarest plants and wildlife, is under similar threat.

On April 4th, 2010 by the hands of H.H. the Dalai Lama, H.H. Pujya Swami Chidanand Saraswati, former Deputy Prime Minister Hon'ble Shri L.K. Advani, former Chief Minister of Uttarakhand Shri Ramesh Pokhriyal Nishank, former Chief Minister of Uttarakhand Major General B.C. Khanduri and many revered saints and dignitaries, Ganga Action Parivar was officially launched at Parmarth Niketan Ashram in Rishikesh at a special "Sparsh Ganga" ("Divine Touch of Ganga") function, an event to raise awareness about the need for collective and holistic, solution-based action to address the crucial issues facing the holy river. Since then, hundreds of supporters and family members have been mobilized, coming together to find solutions to the problems facing Ganga and Her tributaries.

Holidays and birthdays are celebrated with tree plantations to turn them into a beautiful message of giving back and protecting our environment.

7 For Environmental Preservation T's

In honor of When Pujya Swamiji, Founder of Ganga Action Parivar, completed 60 years of life, everyone wanted to give Him birthday presents. He however declared that there is nothing He wants, nothing He needs, but only the gift of people committing themselves to the “6Ts” program, which signifies six-ty years of life.

Now, entering his 70th year, Ganga Action Parivar’s Seven Ts program provides a foundation for a cleaner, greener, more sustainable Ganga River Basin. Through its comprehensive, interlinked initiatives, the people, animals and ecology of the watershed are enabled to not only survive, but thrive.

In so doing, GAP has identified seven categories of outreach that are designed to complement each other: Toilets, Temperature, Trash, Trees, Taps, Tracks and Tigers.

Toilets.

Over 500 million people live near the Ganga River and its tributaries. Many have no access to sanitary facilities. Populations are forced to use the Ganga as a toilet out of necessity, fouling its waters and potentially spreading disease. We will be providing thousands of eco-friendly toilets to villages and other locations throughout the Ganga River Basin.

Temperature.

As the Earth heats up due to climate change, glaciers are melting, including Gaumukh glacier, the source of Mother Ganga. We are working actively to investigate, promote and implement technologies and programmes that can help control the impacts of climate change and protect the environment, populations and precious natural resources.

Trees.

Trees are crucial to life. Yet, to meet the needs of rapidly-expanding populations, far too many trees have been cut down, robbing the Ganga River Basin of its key benefactor. GAP is planting and maintaining thousands of trees as a direct response.

Tigers.

Under the Six T's program, "Tigers" represents all endangered animals inhabiting the Ganga River Basin. Working side-by-side with conservation groups, GAP provides education and awareness programs, enabling populations and visitors to become protectors of their own environments, enabling nature's creatures to flourish as they should.

Taps.

Access to clean and safe drinking water is a basic human right. Yet, every year in India alone, 400,000 children die, and many more are sickened, by water-borne diseases such as typhoid, dysentery and cholera. Adding to the problem are contaminated and shrinking ground water tables alongside untamed pollution in the Ganga. GAP works to provide taps to the rural poor, as well as water filtration systems, while also teaching skills in proper water use management.

Trash.

In the Ganga River Basin, trash is often disposed of directly into or near the river, endangering wildlife, plants, and populations, while also spoiling the appearance of what should be pristine waters. GAP works with local populations, municipalities, and administrators to ensure proper trash disposal, including rubbish bins and recycling. Additionally, GAP provides mass awareness campaigns, aimed at motivating populations and visitors as to how to properly dispose of their waste before it reaches the Ganga.

Tracks.

The Indian train network is one of the most impressive in the world and also one of the dirtiest. GAP is providing the Ministry of Railways with concepts and ideas for new initiatives for cleaning and greening the land alongside the rail tracks. GAP also helps to advise regarding the improvement of sanitary facilities within India's trains and train stations.

Divine Shakti Foundation

The Divine Shakti Foundation is dedicated to the holistic well being of women, their children, and orphaned/abandoned children, and to all of Mother Nature and Mother Earth. Our programs include free schools for children, women's vocational training programs, women's empowerment programs and international events bringing women (and men) together to discover and nurture their oneness with the Divine Feminine.

Schools, vocational training and empowerment programs: poverty, illiteracy and lack of training are tragically common in India. With increasing population, basic education and marketable skills have become absolute necessities in order to subsist in even the smallest communities. Hence, those who lack this education and training go to sleep hungry each night. DSF is dedicated to providing them with the best chance possible to live a life free from destitution. The Divine Shakti Foundation's programs encompass children's schools for both girls and boys as well as computer centers where they learn practice and theory, as well as specialized vocational training and empowerment centers for girls and young women.

IHN's work began as Project Hope in the wake of the Asian Tsunami of 2004. The National Ganga Rights Movement

Founded by Pujya Swamiji, the National Ganga River Rights movement is a coalition of concerned citizens and organizations that are taking a stand on behalf of the Ganga River and its tributaries—while there is still time.

For far too long, people have said there is nothing that can be done. But all the while, the water that nourishes us has become so polluted that it has become a hot-spot for cancers and other deadly diseases, such as typhoid and cholera. The beautiful river that has inspired poets and sages has sadly become one of the most endangered rivers in the world.

As a coalition, we bring a new and strong voice, backed by the successes in nations such as Ecuador, New Zealand and the United States. But we need you to help us make the change. Sign the petition for Ganga's rights at www.gangarights.org.

Project Give-Back

The Heart of Healing

We are committed to providing health care to those who would otherwise go untreated. To this end, we sponsor and support numerous health care programs and runs several annual free health care camps in Rishikesh as well as in other rural areas ranging from Mansarovar and Kailash to the Himalayan region.

Each year, there are numerous free medical health care camps, ranging from urology camps to eye camps (including free cataract surgeries), and including nearly every discipline. Hundreds of patients receive free testing, diagnoses, medicines and treatment for ailments that otherwise would go undiagnosed and untreated.

An overjoyed recipient of a prosthetic limb during one of our free medical camps shakes Pujya Swamiji's hand for the first time.

Every week, our caring volunteers travel to some of the most remote of Himalayan villages, disaster zones and other areas to provide compassionate medical care. Many of the men, women and children treated by our team of medical professionals and sevaks have few to no opportunities to see doctors, and are thus overjoyed when our Free Medical Camp banner rises for all to see.

Beautiful medical camps are also held at Parmarth Niketan throughout the year, offering specialty services, including prosthetic limbs, eye care, physiotherapy and much, much more.

The Green Kumbh Initiative

Kumbh Mela is one of the most ancient, and yet still living, traditions of India's glorious past. The festival dates back to the pre-Vedic period, as even in the Vedas Kumbh Mela is described as a tradition that was already well established. The popularity of Kumbh Mela has only increased over the millennia, gathering up to hundreds of millions of people every twelve years at each of the four holy places: Prayag Raj (Uttar Pradesh), Haridwar (Uttarakhand), Ujjain (Madhya Pradesh) and Nasik (Maharashtra), making it the largest gathering of people on Earth.

At every Kumbha Mela, you can likely find us rallying with beloved faith leaders and the masses for great and lasting change. From grand rallies to processions to mass events to live shows and community interactions through our WASH on Wheels and Education Stations, you will find us working to ensure Kumbha Melas result in a cleaner, greener and more sustainable world.

GREEN KATHAS for a CLEAN, GREEN & SERENE WORLD

Pujya Swamiji has inspired “Kathakar Social Responsibility” (KSR), like Corporate Social Responsibility, to utilize the immense power that Kathakars have in reaching their communities through their commentaries on religious scriptures to create positive change and green action amongst the masses. He urges that the time has come that our festivals, our kathas and our holidays must be green and sustainable. He says, “through our respected Kathakars and their Kathakar Social Responsibility, we can be inspired and charged to make every moment and minute of our lives more green and more sustainable.”
